It is our duty this week to chronicle the demise of Mrs. J. R. Leake, which and event took place Sunday morning, after breakfast, when she called home to her family. She was born in Perth, Ont., where she spent her girlhood. She was a friend of the late Hon. John Hargrave, and frequently referred to his work. She was doing. Nine years ago last fall she came with her husband to Wetaskiwin, and by her cheerful and loving disposition soon made a host of friends, who deeply regret her departure.

She was always an earnest and ardent worker in Emmanuel Church, and her sterling Christian life was an example to all. After her death, she was buried in the cemetery. She leaves to mourn her loss a heart broken husband, who is now an octogenarian; one son, Rev. Mr. Leake, whose parish is at Hargraveville, Ont., and two daughters, namely Mrs. C. G. Austin, Wetaskiwin, and Mrs. Rev. Hartwell, who has spent many years in China, also a missionary, but who is now residing at the coast.

The year 1912 was a very busy one for the city council, but particularly so for the waterworks and sewers and public works committees. The report of W. L. Crane, city engineer, for last year, was recently prepared and from, which the following information is gleaned.
During the year 4000 lineal feet of water mains were laid, and 69 houses connections were installed.

The waterworks and sewers have given on very satisfactory results, and since March 1912, when the present superintendent at the power house had an opportunity of getting the machinery in shape, we have had a continuous service from the waterworks system, both the elevated tank and the ground reservoir being kept practically full during the year.

QUARTETTE IS PLEASING

One of the most successful concerts of the city was that rendered in the spacious auditorium last evening, by the "Toronto Ladies' Quartette" under the auspices of the Excelsior Club. The quartette, whose members were well received and an encore demanded to nearly every selection. One of the most popular numbers of the quartette was "The Willing Workers of the Primitive Church." Her lecture on Monday last, in consequence of this he is confined to the house, but it is hoped that he will soon be around again in his usual wanted health.

A very close and interesting game of curling was played on Tuesday evening between rinks skippered by C. B. McMurdo and J. R. Staples. The game was a scientific one. We have found it out and are going to tell you. It is simply because they used Ramsey's Paints, the oldest and best known name in the world. Ramsey's Paints are the same and you can get them at the store of Asa Brown, Wetaskiwin.

BONNIE GLEN

As 3 p.m. another service was held at which Mr. Aldridge gave a Missionary Address based on the life of David Livingstone. The singing was led by a Voluntary Choir organized by Mr. Aldridge. In spite of adverse weather conditions, a large congregation was present at both services. On Monday evening a Social gathering took place and very pleasant time was passed. The offerings for the Building Fund were liberal. As the church is almost, if not, entirely paid for, Mr. P. J. Moore, the Student in charge of the field displayed commendable energy in bringing the project to such a successful conclusion. Thanks are also to friends both in the immediate neighborhood and other points farther off for valuable assistance rendered.

Prominent People Plead To Testify For "Fruit-a-Lives"

MR. TIMOTHY MCGRATH
130 ATLANTIC AVE., MONTREAL,
MARCH 14, 1912.

"For years, I suffered from Rheumatism, being unable to work for weeks at a time and spent hundreds of dollars on doctor's medicines, besides receiving treatment at Notre Dame Hospital where I was informed that I was incurable. I was discouraged when a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-Lives'. After using three packages, I felt relieved and continued until I had used five packages when a complete cure was the result after years of doctoring failed. I consider 'Fruit-a-Lives' a wonderful remedy. You are at liberty to use this testimonial to prove to others the good that 'Fruit-a-Lives' has done me. TIMOTHY MCGRATH.

SCHOOL NOTES

The school attendance for February of 1913, was the largest in the history of the city.

All the teachers are making arrangements to attend the Fourth Annual Convention of the Alberta Educational Association. The Convention will be held this year in the city of Edmonton. The schools therefore, will close on Thursday the 20th to open again on Monday the 21st.

All the children, students and teachers will return to their studies with renewed minds to enter upon the last lap of the school year which will require the putting forth of extra efforts to meet with success, the coming examinations.

The closing exercises for the term, will be a combined affair. The pupils and teachers of the King Edward and Alexandra Schools will meet, Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Methodist Church for the Assembly hall of the Alexandra School being at present used for class rooms.

This will, no doubt, be a most enjoyable affair. We would like to have the whole city attend, but after 500 children are packed in, we are afraid there will not be room even for the "church mouse." However, none will be turned away, if after the children are accommodated, there is any room left.

Tables have been placed in the ends of the second corridor on which are to be found the leading daily and weekly papers and the best magazines. These tables are crowded every noon and recess by students who are anxious to keep themselves posted as to the leading events of the present. The teachers are anxious to encourage the students along this line.

We expect to pay more attention to another feature of School Life, viz. The development of the physical side of Student growth. As the Spring opens and the grounds become fit, games of all kinds will be organized, such as Football, Baseball, Basketball, Long Ball, Dodge ball, etc. some being suitable for one grade alone for another etc. No girl or boy can be strong mentally without a healthy strong active body.

LLOYDMINSTER FIRM WINNERS OF BIG PRIZE

Columbia, S.C., March 18. — Canada has just gained world-wide renown for its oats, the growers of this prize-winning cereal being J. C. Hill & Sons, Lloydminster, Sask., who have been awarded the Olympic trophy, for the best bushel of oats shown at the National Corn Exposition held here.

This prize of $1000 was open for the whole of the North American continent.

J. C. Hill & Sons are now famous growers of prize oats, as they captured the $1000 prize for the test bushel at the Columbia, Ohio, corn show last year.

The family belongs to the Barr colonists and ten years ago, when they left London, they had absolutely no knowledge of farming. Since their arrival in the West however, they have given up most of their time and ground to the growing of oats.

WHEN EASTER FALLS

Easter comes unusually early this year. Easter Sunday falls on March 23rd.

The date is determined by a somewhat complicated method. The rule is that Easter Day is always the first Sunday after the "vernal full moon" that is, the full moon which happens upon or following after March 21st (the beginning of the ecclesiastical year), and if the full moon happens upon a Sunday, Easter Sunday is the next Sunday.

The matter is not rendered more hazy by the fact that the "full moon" is not an actual full moon, but an ecclesiastical one, which falls generally by a day or a day after the actual full moon.

This method of determining when Easter Day should be celebrated was not settled without considerable controversy in the early church. It seems that in the second century a dispute arose between the Eastern and Western churches on the point, the vast proportion of the Eastern Christians celebrating Easter on the fourteenth day of the first Jewish month moon, considering it to be equivalent to the Jewish Passover.

The Western Christians, however, kept it on the Sunday after the fourteenth day, holding it to be commemorative of the resurrection of Jesus. The point was eventually settled by the Council of Nice in favor of Western usage and further points were arranged as regards English usage at the Council of Whitby, in the year 664.

Many interesting Easter customs take place in Britain, where so much veneration was paid to the numerous prehistoric stones, which still abound, that the church was obliged to associate Christian ceremonial with many pagan customs.

Thus in the giant paschal tapers may be traced the ancient fires which celebrated the coming of the Spring in England divergence of custom are still observed in several provincial towns. In the United States and here a vast number of white lilies are used at Easter, perhaps more than in any other part of the world.

WHOOPIING COUGH LEFT A NASTY, DRY COUGH. Doctors Could Do No Good.

Mrs. A. Mainwright, St. Mary's, Ont., writes: "I feel it my duty to write and tell you the good your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup did for my little boy. He had whooping cough, which left him with a nasty, dry hard cough. I took him to several doctors, but they did him no good, and I could see my little lad falling day by day. I was advised to take him to another doctor, which I did, and he told me he was going into a decline. I was telling a neighbor about it and she told me to get a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and give it to him regularly. She then got to tell me how much good it did her children, so I got a bottle, and gave it to my little boy, and was so pleased with the result that I bought another one, and by the time he had finished it he had no cough. He is now fat and strong, and I would not be without a bottle in the house on any account."

Whooping cough generally begins as a common cold, accompanied with coughing and a slight discharge from the nose. It is at this time, more of a child's trouble but also affects adults.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is a preventive if taken in time, and is also a positive cure for any of the after effects.

Dr. Wood's is put up in a yellow wrapper, three nine from the trade mark; price 25 and 50 cents.

Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Canada.

A FINLAND MARKET.

The Emotional Drama of the Sale of a Bunch of Carrots.

In Finland the people still cling to some of the old customs—the old market days, for instance, and the market places, such as were familiar to English life a hundred years ago. There is little chance there for the middleman to make a profit in the production of produce from the producer to the consumer. A typical market scene is given by Paul Wainman in his book, "A Summer Tour in Finland."

"The market is a veritable delight to the eye of the visitor, it is so ridiculously primitive and old-fashioned. There are lines upon lines of quaint booths and rows of springless two-wheeled market carts, in which patient little Finnish horses standing as motionless as if they had been made of the same gingerbread that a smiling market woman offered to me as I wended my way through their midst. "Deity," I hear picked up their skirts as they threaded their way here, there and everywhere, inspecting minutely the goods on the various stalls, always followed by a red-headed handmaid bearing a huge old wooden wicker basket, from which a very varied assortment of edibles peeled out. "At the market you can buy everything—meat, poultry, fruit, vegetables, milk, butter, flowers, even the humble wild lilies. The hum of voices is astonishing. There are apparently no fixed prices, and a tragedy of renunciation may be observed in the surrender of a handful of vegetables to a customer who has bargained too hard.

One special bunch of carrots caught my attention. They appeared to me to be very ordinary carrots, but their owner, an old man, bent nearly double with his year lifted them tenderly from the corner of his cart. The would-be purchaser was an elderly woman with white shoulders. "I could see from the first that it would go badly with that old man," she said. "The scene that took place between them was tragic. Every emotion of which a human countenance is capable was printed in turn upon both faces—pious inquiry, astonishment, contempt, incredulity, wounded pride, determination, hesitation, aversion, finishing up at last with triumph on the one side and resignation on the other as the bunch of carrots was carried off by the woman."

Hardly a Parallel.

Many stories are told of the wit of Sir H. Beerholm Tree, and one of the best is related by Miss Constance Collier. The incident happened while she was rehearsing for the part of the heroine in a production at His Majesty's Theatre. The author of the play was there, making various suggestions.

"In this scene," he said, "the hero should pick you up, Miss Collier, and carry you off the stage across his shoulder."

Miss Collier objected, but the author insisted, till Sir Herbert came to the rescue.

"I saw a play in Italy once," said the latter, "in which the hero caught hold of the heroine by the legs and hoisted her head on the floor."

"Splendid!" exclaimed the author. "What was the play?"

"Punch and Judy," was the actor's reply.

While We Sleep.

"God bestows his gifts during the night," says the old German proverb. Sleep itself is a great blessing, and while we sleep the clouds are clearing their supplies of moisture, the rivers are performing their ministry of labor on our behalf, the seeds are swelling in the earth, the grain is springing in the fields, the fruits are ripening on the trees, the harvest is growing golden in the mellow darkness of the autumn night, for, in truth, if we are wise and diligent, nature is on our side, and all God's world is busy preparing our bread.—Henry van Dyke.

Glad to Meet Him.

King Humbert once visited Florence and saw a representation of the antiquary, inquired of each well presented, which his recognition was. "Being, majesty," was the uniform reply until it came the turn of the Marquis Gracchi, who had lost caste somewhat because of his manufacture of pottery, which was not a noble's work, a maker of majolica," said the marquis in response to the king's question. "Thank heaven!" cried the king, "there is no noble in Florence who does something."

Napoleon Before the Convention.

When Barras introduced Napoleon to the convention as a fit man to be entrusted with the command the president asked:

"Are you willing to undertake the defence of the convention?"

"Yes," was the reply.

After a time the president continued, "Are you aware of the magnitude of the undertaking?"

"Perfectly," replied Napoleon, fixing his eyes upon the president, "and I am in the habit of accomplishing that which I undertake."

Always.

"What is the proper thing for a man to do when his wife asks him for money and he has none?" queried Ned.

"Oh, there isn't any proper thing to do in those circumstances," said the Old. "Nothing he does will be wrong."

Orbiting the Critic.

"Criticize your essay," said Dr. Ruler's friend. "And be insists that you're beyond your depth."

"Ah," replied Dr. Ruler, "I thought he would say that."

"You do? Then you know what he means?"

"Yes. He means simply that I am beyond his depth."

Canada has more than 1,200 newspapers, of which one-tenth are dailies.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

are not a new and untried remedy—our grandfathers used them. Half a century ago, before Confederation, they were sold in nearly every drug or general store in the Canada of that day, and were the recognized cure in thousands of homes for Constipation, Indigestion, Biliousness, Rheumatism and Kidney and Liver Troubles. Today they are just as effective, just as reliable as ever, and nothing better has yet been devised to

Cure Common Ills

Bad Pains in Her Liver Doctors Only Relieved Her For A Time.

When the liver is inactive everything seems to go wrong, and a lazy, slow or torpid liver is a terrible affliction, as its influence permeates the whole system and causes Biliousness, Headache, Nervousness, Floating Spots before the Eyes, Jaundice, Brown Blootches, Constipation, Catarrh of the Stomach, etc.

Milburn's Laxative Pills stimulate the sluggish liver, clean away all waste and poisonous matter from the system, and prevent as well as cure all sickness arising from a disordered condition of the liver.

Mrs. Wesley Eastbrook, Midgley Station, N.B., writes:

"I have been troubled with pains in the liver. I have had medicine from several doctors, but was only relieved for a time by them. I then tried Milburn's Laxative Pills, and I have had no trouble with my liver since. I can honestly recommend them to every person who has liver trouble."

Price: 25 cents per vial or 5 vials for $1.00. For sale at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Clearance SALE of Pianos and Organs

FOR THE NEXT THREE WEEKS

We are going to offer our entire stock of high grade Pianos, and Player Pianos, and organs, at prices which ought to make a clean sweep of every instrument on our floor within that time.

There are TWO REASONS for this apparent outbreak of philanthropy. "As our part," first, during the last few months, we have accumulated a number of splendid Pianos and Organs, taken in exchange for Player and manual pianos, and we wish to dispose of these.

Second, our first lot of pianos and organs for spring have already been shipped from the factory, and another shipment is due to leave in a short time.

Owing to our serious lack of space, we must make room for these shipments before they reach us, and as there are, no doubt, a number of prospective piano buyers, who are just waiting for a chance to buy a piano for less than it is worth, we are going to give them such an opportunity during the next three weeks.

Remember we are not offering Pianos of the price "package variety", but instruments built and guaranteed by the best manufacturers on this Continent.

All pianos insured against Fire, Tempest and Flood.

A few prices are quoted below.
